10-Year Flash Vision Prompts (Based on the 7 Pillars of Life)

1. HEALTH

"It's ten years from now, and your body finally feels like a home--not a battlefield."

You move with ease. You breathe without tension. Your habits are second nature.

- What does your daily life feel like now that your body is in balance?
- What have you achieved in these 10 years--physically, mentally, energetically?
- What does it feel like to live inside your body? How do you look, move, and carry yourself?
- And most of all: Who did you have to become to treat your body this way?

2. WEALTH

"It's been ten years, and you no longer trade your time for survival--you've built stability and freedom."

Money is a tool now, not a stressor. You've designed your own economy.

- What does your income life look like? Where does the money come from--and what does it allow you to do?
- What have you built, created, or invested in over the last decade?
- How do you feel when you spend money now? What's different?
- And most of all: Who did you have to become to be trusted with this level of wealth?

3. LOVE

"It's ten years from now, and your relationships feel like roots, not cages."

You are loved for who you are--not for what you produce, hide, or fix.

- Who surrounds you now? Who did you allow into your inner circle--and why?
- What kind of love do you give and receive? What does it feel like to come home?
- What values, boundaries, or habits sustain this kind of connection?
- And most of all: Who did you have to become to open your heart without losing yourself?

4. LEGACY

"Ten years have passed, and your life now echoes beyond you."

Something you've built still lives on--serving, inspiring, guiding.

- What message or mission does your life now stand for?
- What projects, works, or moments define your contribution to the world?

10-Year Flash Vision Prompts (Based on the 7 Pillars of Life)

- Who has been impacted by your presence--and how?
- And most of all: Who did you have to become to live a life that outlasts you?

5. WISDOM

"It's a decade later, and your mind is clear. Your decisions are grounded in truth, not noise."

You've stopped chasing answers. You've started living them.

- What guiding truths or philosophies shape your life now?
- What old patterns or limiting beliefs have you finally outgrown?
- How do you process life differently now--what do you no longer fear or react to?
- And most of all: Who did you have to become to trust your own inner wisdom?

6. SPIRITUALITY

"It's ten years from today, and your soul is no longer restless."

You're connected--not perfectly, but consistently. You walk with peace.

- What does your spiritual practice or relationship with the sacred look like now?
- How do you experience awe, purpose, or divine presence in daily life?
- What has shifted in how you pray, surrender, or align your life?
- And most of all: Who did you have to become to walk this kind of spiritual path?

7. CHARACTER

"A decade has passed, and you've become someone you'd trust--even when no one's watching."

You live with integrity, courage, and inner alignment.

- What kind of person are you now--at your core, behind closed doors?
- What trials tested your character over the last 10 years--and how did you respond?
- What virtues or values are now non-negotiable in your life?
- And most of all: Who did you have to become to be this solid and true to yourself?
